READ—

Notes dated the 1st March 1911 and the 17th July 1912 by the Secretary to Government Public Works Department regarding water supply to public institutions

No 1453 91--9150 88, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH NOVEMBER 1912

ORDER THEREON —The case relates to the supply of water to the public institutions, whether Government, charitable or religious in the cities of Bangalore and Mysore from the Chamarajendra and the Vanivilas Water Works respectively It is brought to notice that so long as accounts are maintained of the quantity of water pumped of the charges incurred on such pumping and the requisite maintenance of the water works of the amount realised from the excess water bills etc the water supply concern should be treated as a commercial one and the rules regulating house connections applied alike without any exception to all buildings, whether they be public institutions or ordinary dwelling houses Any charitable institution applying for a free water supply should it is suggested do so through the Department of Government from which it draws a grant in aid and in case Government see fit to grant the prayer, the initial cost of the water connection and the charges for excess water may be sanctioned as a supplemental grant to the Department concerned or as a contribution to the particular institution By the adoption of such a procedure charitable institutions deserving of help will not it is remarked be deprived of the benefits of a free water supply while at the same time, the accounts of the Water Supply Department will be maintained in an accurate and responsible manner

2 Government fully concur with the views expressed above and are accordingly pleased to direct that this procedure be brought into effect from the 1st January 1913 on which date all the concessions for free water supply granted till now will cease Private institutions desirous of renewing the concession may take the necessary steps in the meantime to apply to the Departments concerned and obtain the requisite sanction thereto

In the case of Government institutions, the Water Supply Department will debit the excess water charges incurred on and after the above mentioned date, to the departments concerned through the Civil Exchange accounts
